October 1, 2011
Midway College, Midway, KY, 9-3 PM

OUR ESTEEMED FACULTY INCLUDES:

ROBERT A. ANDERSON, MD. Dr Anderson is a true pioneer of holistic medicine, having practiced clinically for more than thirty years. He is a founder and past president of the American Holistic Medical Association as well as a founder and past president of the American Board of Integrative Holistic Medicine. He is the author of many books and articles on holistic medicine and psychosynthesis and currently is faculty at Bastyr University.

Allan Warshowsky, MD. Allan Warshowsky MD's integrative holistic approach towards optimal women's health includes traditionally taught GYN plus a body-mind-spiritual focus that includes lifestyle change (diet, supplements, exercise, and stress management), botanical therapies, and natural bio identical hormone treatment, and meditation/visualizations. His book, Healing Fibroids, a Doctors Guide to a Natural Cure brings women to his office from all over the world looking for ways to avoid surgery for fibroids and to restore themselves to health. In addition to his book on fibroid tumors, he has also written a chapter on the holistic approach to abnormal pap smears and HPV in the book Women at Risk by Gregory Henderson MD.

WENDY WARNER, MD. Among many other accomplishments, Wendy Warner MD has also been the Medical director of the holistic center at St Mary Medical Center, Medical Co-Director of the Mother Bachmann Maternity Center, and Chair of the ObGYN Departments at both St Mary Medical Center in Langhorne, PA and Lower Bucks Hospital in Bristol, PA.. Dr. Warner has studied with many noted holistic practitioners, herbalists and energy workers, including Dr Andrew Weil and Dr Tierona Low Dog. Her interest in energy medicine also led her to become a Reiki Master and incorporate yoga and meditation into her practice.. She travels the U. S. teaching holistic medicine practices to other physicians.

James Roach, MD. James Roach MD is board certified in family medicine and integrative holistic medicine, and has sought additional training in botanical, nutritional, and antiaging medicine. Integrative cancer care, because of its outstanding promise, and difficult to treat illnesses have become his top interests. He is committed to integrative medicine becoming the primary care model of the future, and believes education is instrumental in long-term success. He has had state leadership in tobacco control, a founding leader in Habitat for Humanity, and is a Midway College trustee. He was the 1997 Central Kentucky Leader in Healthcare by the Lane Report. Dr. Roach's unique and diverse approach attracts from throughout the Southeastern U.S. and beyond. He is the founder of the Midway Center for Integrative Medicine.
